Profile

The eldest of three siblings, I am someone who loves to learn as much as I love sharing my knowledge with others. With experiences in both classroom teaching and tutoring, I believe myself highly capable of this profession. To work in an institution/organization where I can develop my skills and implement my acquired knowledge and skills for the better development of young minds is my personal goal, which I believe can be achieved through perseverance, sincerity and open mindedness, a few among many qualities required for this profession. My strength lies in my perseverance and interpersonal as well as intrapersonal skills, which are of great help to me when I am in the position of an educator.
